Hows this:

Hows about the response below? Also note we are not responding to the concerns on the methane rule.

The EPA's own staff scientists recommended against reversing the chlorpyrifos ban, saying that the chemical causes developmental damage in children, and EPA's own notice to stay the methane rule also noted that delaying the rule could disproportionately harm children. Critics say these decisions undermine the EPA's own mission to protect public health. What's your response?
